

I had a choice and chose to BUY and listen to XM. In a market economy I, a tax paying, law abiding citizen, should be allowed the freedom to choose what I want to listen to - especially if I pay extra for it! I spend alot of time on the road and the instant traffic and weather are very, very helpful. The wide variety of stations allows me to listen to what I want to listen to, which is my right as an American. The FCC and the government should NOT be dictating the programing of XM radio, especially if the consumers choose to pay for it. If the government starts to mandate what XM can and can't broadcast then how far removed are we from the dictators with their propoganda. One more time - I CHOSE to BUY XM radio and I CHOOSE to listen to it. If other stations can't compete then maybe they should change their programing.
